

Editorial

In this edition of GCIC's quarterly newsletter, we share content from GCIC's Green Business Road Show and Incubating Climate Innovation, GCIC's flagship thought leadership symposium on climate change and the green economy. We have also introduced a gender column which highlights activities that evidence GCIC's commitment to supporting women in the business sector. Happy reading!

POLICY BRIEF

AFRICA'S FASHION INDUSTRY AND CLIMATE CHANGE IN THE COVID-19 ERA

Ashesi University and Ghana Climate Innovation Centre (GCIC)'s Climate Industry Spotlight on Africa's Fashion Industry and Climate Change posits that African fashion designers can leverage the COVID 19-induced shift in fashion mindsets to create a unique and eco-conscious fashion to distinguish Africa's fashion style and impact the climate positively.
